Paul: A Disciple Who Prayed for the Salvation of Others

No. 4: Dynamic Discipleship
Scripture: Romans 10:1-15

Disciples of Jesus find their relationship with Christ to be so meaningful they want others to share it. At one time Paul had done everything in his power to stop people from becoming Christians. Then he met Jesus on the Road to Damascus and he was transformed. From that moment on, Paul's life was spent explaining the gospel and pointing people to Jesus. While he is known as the Apostle to the Gentiles he has a deep love for his own people, the Jews. In this chapter he describes his heart's desire that they may be saved. Paul is a great model for how we can intercede for those we love.
